

On December 13, 2021, the Cape Breton Partnership hosted Community Engagement Sessions at Breton Education Centre for the surrounding community on the ongoing New Waterford Community Hub Project. Each session included representatives who shared updates and details on this significant project from architects and designers, as well as team members from CBRM Health Care Redevelopment, Nova Scotia Lands, Nova Scotia Public Works, Cape Breton-Victoria Regional Centre for Education, Cape Breton Regional Municipality, and Nova Scotia Construction Sector Council.

Where did attendees come from?

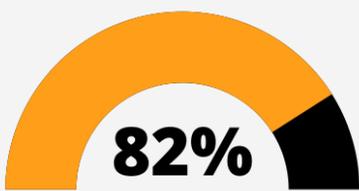

Other communities include:
Howie Centre, Gardiner Mines, Caribou Marsh, Lingan, Glace Bay, Scotchtown, Victoria Mines, Whitney Pier, Port Morien, & South Bar

Most common themes from participant feedback:

- The project is a wonderful addition to the community
- Continue to share similar sessions and regular project updates
- The design of the new BEC school lacks enough classrooms.

On a five-point scale, those who rated the following questions as a 3 or higher:

How useful was this session?

Did the session help you learn more about the project?

Do you think more sessions like this should be offered?

LEARN MORE: BUILDING-TOMORROW.CA

Building Tomorrow is a campaign from the Cape Breton Partnership highlighting the five major projects underway that will revitalize the Island and put more people to work.